“ I will forever miss my big sister...I now have a very special guardian angel watching over me. I was looking out the window this morning and the most beautiful red bird was at the feeder looking back at me...I immediately thought of Carol. I love you!

“ Carol was a dear friend, a great listener and always so positive and uplifting. She was one of those people that could be trusted with the darkest of secrets and the silliest of jokes. She teased us with her 'what is the secret ingredient?' questions when she would put together one of her concoctions (usually alcoholic) that came in a fancy bottle at Christmastime.

We shared tears and laughter and many, many hours around the dinner table at each other's home and sometimes out to celebrate a birthday or special occasion. We laughed when we bought expensive tickets to a concert at Popejoy Hall only to have the lights come on and expose Charles fast asleep. We formed a hiking group, sharing our packed lunch, and getting lost in the forest of Tijeras NM where there was no cell phone signal to call someone to rescue us.

Carol gave me wavy hair with a "perm" kit, and I colored hers to a brassy red only to have to rethink and correct it before Charles got back from a trip.

Carol managed to turn ordinary times into an adventure with her very active and curious nature; even turning a casual Easter cookout at our home into an Easter egg hunt that made the occasion special, DEFINITELY different, and a memory I will forever treasure.

We could count on Carol and Charles if ever we had an emergency and when they moved away from Edgewood NM our lives were not the better for their absence. We even loved their dog, Sugar, as much as we loved them.

We love you and we will miss your earthly presence, dear friend. We will see you again and toast the fact that you made it to the heavenly gates before WE did and no doubt you will have one of your curious concoctions from Emeril LaGasse's cookbook chilled and ready to pour.....

Until then.... Dios que la bendiga.

“ Carol was such a special lady.....one that we have known for some 50 plus years. I was in Carol and Charles' wedding in year 1969. She was always such a caring person with a positive attitude toward the future. She is now in a better place and looking down from the other side knowing that her husband, Charles, and her three children.....and eight grandkids will benefit from her love, wisdom, and her relationship with God. We will sure miss her.

“ We were honored to be neighbors....
Here is our prayer:
Dear Lord,
Carry our friend in Your arms.
Let her lean against your chest.
Let her listen to Your heart beating and feel Your breath on her cheek as You whisper, “I’ve got you my child; I will keep you with me. I won’t sit you down until you are strong enough to stand.”
Carry her, Lord in Your arms.
Lift her above the pain and sadness she has been carrying.
Lift her high, Lord, so she can breathe deeply of the heavens.
Lift her so she can see with Your eyes and understand why the past has shaped her and that the future is in Your hands.
Lord, as you carry her, tell her how much we loved her.
Help her to understand how much we will miss her.
Let her know the many times we laughed and prayed together were a blessing and brought us joy.
Lord, let her know this part of her journey is part of Your plan.
In this, Lord, we can find peace in the valley.
Lord, carry her in Your arms.
Keep her safe, make her whole, and then plant her feet on solid ground, so she may sing your praises for eternity.
We thank You, Lord, for letting us share this part of her journey.
Amen. (Author: Gwen Sheldon, relative of Donna Sade)
